

Figure 5.10 | Intensity at zero-angle of the PS-Plain particles as a function of the solvent electron density measured with continuous contrast variation in SAXS. The minimum defines the average electron density of the particle.